— KNUD
HOLSCHER

“Design should be like a button on a shirt with character to catch your attention but no more so you can use it without thinking about it”

Knud Holscher is an architect with over 40 years of experience, his own design studio and a wealth of knowledge of his craft so vast that it is no surprise that he remains one of the most influential designers in Scandinavia. His studio produces designs that are of exceptional character and quality and draws inspiration from the simple, harmonious forms of nature.

There is a strong sense of purpose throughout his work. Every detail is there for a reason and nothing is created solely for the sake of appearance. This aesthetic leans on the Nordic traditions of simplicity and clarity of design, while keeping in mind the product’s purpose both in public and private spaces. While his creations have their roots in tradition, the methods and materials that bring them to life point to a vision of the future.

Where light meets form.

LIGHTARCH

LightArch consists of single candlesticks or arches that fit together in a variety of ways to build unique arrangements of unlimited size. Put different combinations together for every mood and occasion. The polished stainless steel arches curve to mirror and reflect the glow of the candles, creating a fascinating play of light and form.

FIREKEEPER

The Fire Keeper is an ingenious tool used for starting and tending fires in wood burning stoves, open fireplaces and outdoor grills. It can be used as both a fire blower and a poker by blowing through to gain direct access to the embers. It performs the function of a traditional bellows, but the design aesthetic produces a sleek, informed modernisation of the original function. When not in use, a magnetic holder attached to the wall allows for the Fire Keeper's minimally inspired storage.

Informed Function.

The concept for the design was inspired by American Indian culture and folklore. Traditionally, the 'fire keeper' was the person who stayed behind at the camp while the rest of tribe went hunting or harvesting firewood. It was their responsibility to guard the fire and keep it alight. It was seen as a position of privilege, to keep an eye over the tribe's most important resource, the Fire Keeper had an important role to fulfill.

DAVID — KRYNAUW

David Krynauw's design and craftsmanship career began as a side-business while he was in University. Using the timber from his father's Eucalyptus plantation and the passion and skills passed down from father to son, David's journey began with the desire to create. Over time, his passion and desire to make and build beautiful things led him to making the full-time commitment to his art.

Over time, Krynauw has taken his work even further, erecting his own chapel in Johannesburg in 2006 as a proof of concept. The accolades he has won in his wood work career thus far speak for themselves.

Handcrafted oak and leather furniture pieces inspired by his South African heritage.

Handcrafted elegance.

Krynauw's work pushes the boundaries in every way that it can. There is more to his designs than meet the eye and his attention to detail in the way his pieces are put together is where he proves the mastery of his craft.

The sophisticated Metropolitan.

METROPOLITAN CHAIR

Hand crafted wood and Krynauw inspired material meets Danish design in this piece. Artfully rounded corners and the space created within the form itself lends a sculptural aspect to the design aesthetic.

Minimalist character.

HARMONY LAMP

The Harmony Lamp is informed by the idea of balance both in design and aesthetic. A balance scale is used to create and adjustable light source and a lamp design that allows for movement without the use of unsightly springs, plastic or visible screws. It is an exercise in basic physics, natural form and exceptional design.

LITTLE MAN LAMP

The Little Man Lamp is the perfect meeting point between character and minimalist design elements. The materials are entirely natural and the lamp is made using basic geometries, handcrafted wood and no visible screws.

Sustainable craftmanship

OSLO BAR CHAIR

Slim lines, artfully rounded corners and a traditional leather woven top form the basis for this elegant bar chair.

HOLMES TABLES

The precision of Krynauw's design aesthetic meets an intriguing connective illusion in these side tables. The Danish aesthetic is wholly present in the simplicity of the lines and forms that make up the design. The connective intricacies of the table legs add an element of intrigue and character.

Considered curves.

CRESCENT CHAIR

The Crescent Chair is an exploration of form and function. The single curved crescent is a focal point in the structural lines of the rest of the chair. It offers a beautiful disruption of the linear aesthetic. The quality of the timber and the choice of leather seat are quintessentially Krynauw.

WEI-LUN — TSENG

"A nice cup of coffee might be a good example, people do not need it, but they feel extra good about it. What we are trying to do now is quite the same thing: we produce products that are well designed, of a high quality and people feel good to have them somewhere in their daily lives"

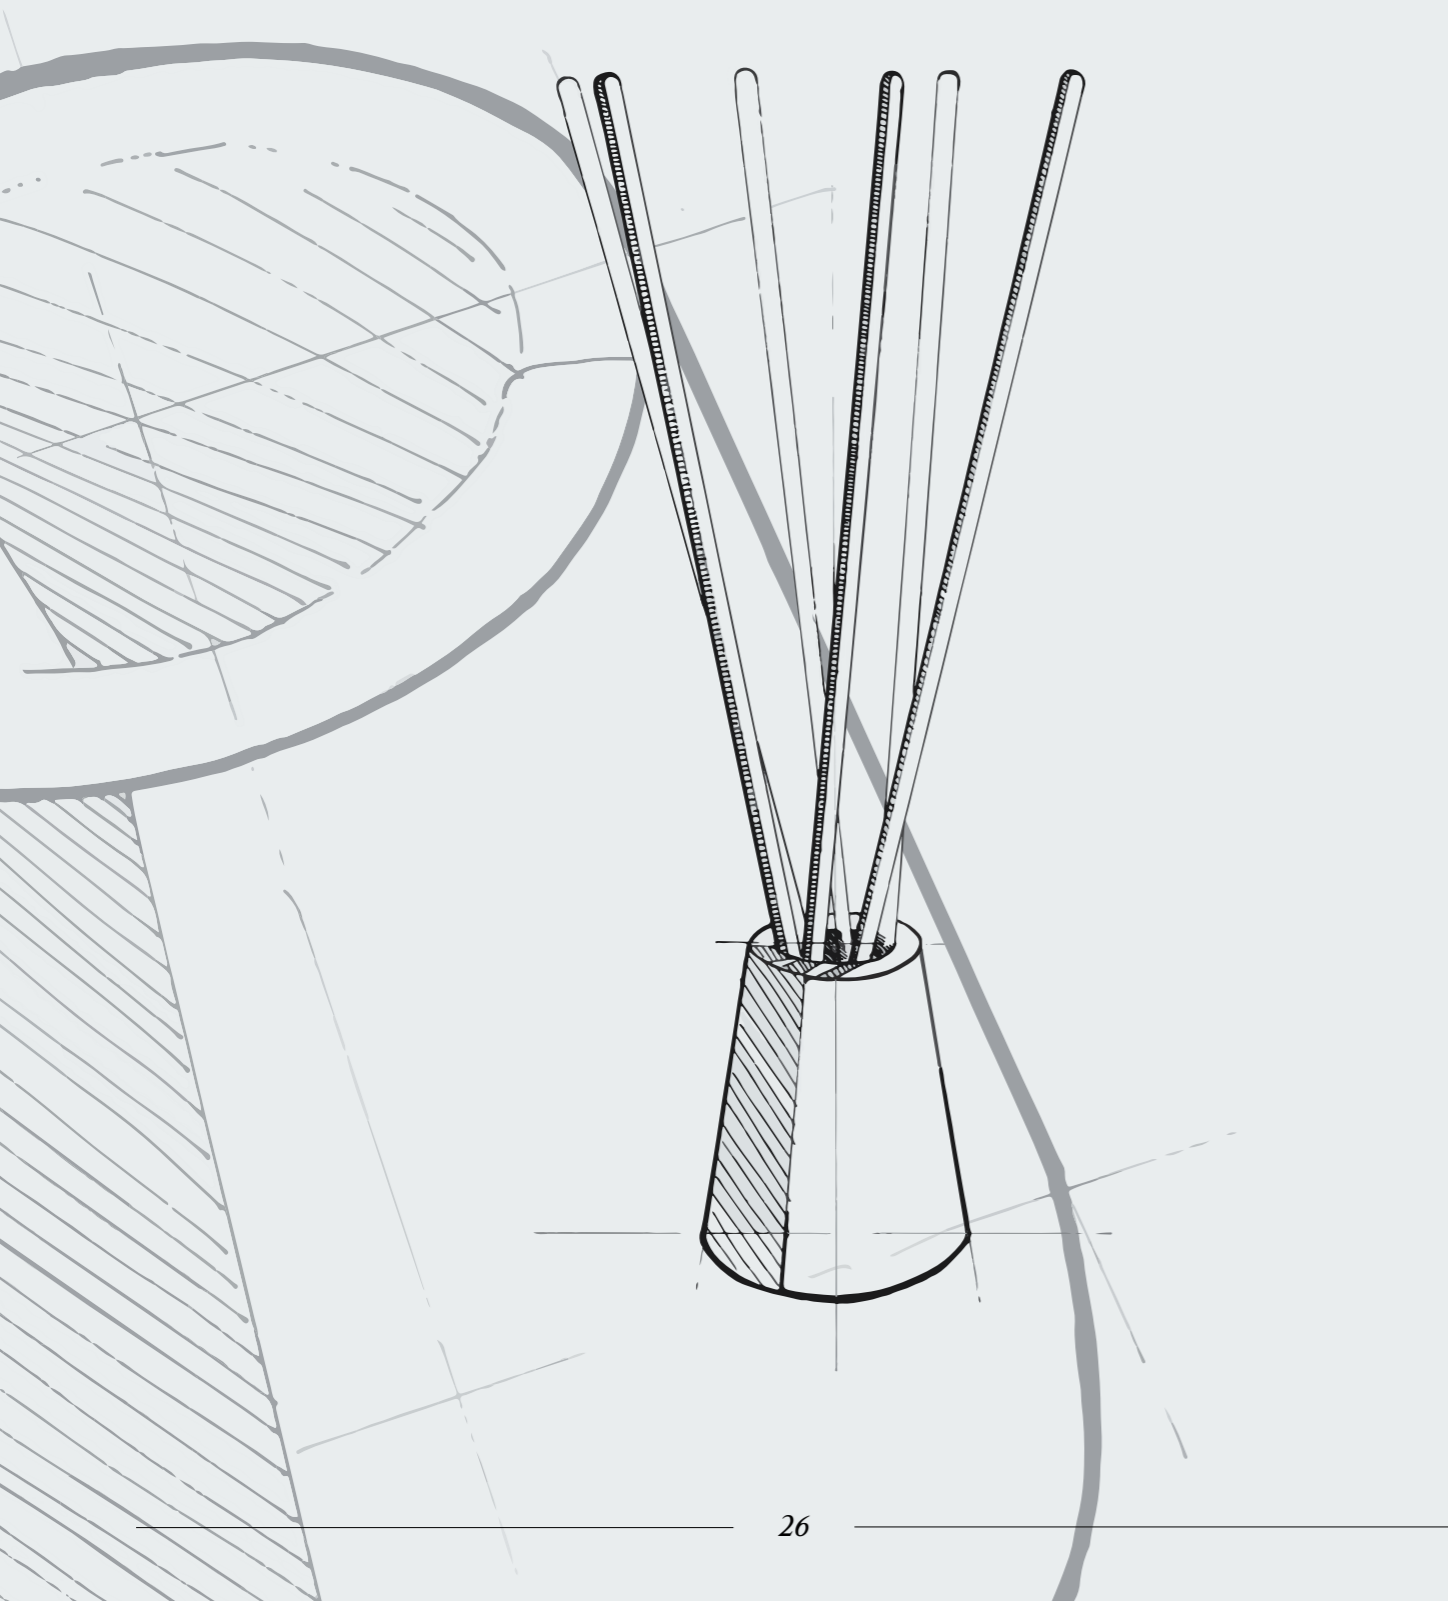

Wei-Lun Tseng is a Taiwanese designer and founder of his own design studio in Taipei. Made up of a diverse, multicultural group of people passionate about what they do this entrepreneurial design studio creates superior design speak to a global audience. Tseng's collaborative designs deliver a message, but most importantly, they do so with heart and soul.

Tseng is no stranger to accolades and awards as his work and design vision really do speak for themselves. An extract from a recent interview for art4d describes his aesthetic beautifully as Tseng believes "there is no such thing as "a perfect design".

SPAGHETTI COAT RACK

The Spaghetti Coat Rack is a collaboration between Wei-Lun and Vytautas Gecas, and is a quirky take on the traditional coat rack. Consisting of a weighted base and six sturdy beech sticks to hold the coats and jackets the piece has an air of playful nostalgia accompanying its thoughtful design.

The Spaghetti Coat Rack base comes in two different colour schemes; a natural concrete or a composite terrazzo base made of marble or granite set in concrete.

MACARONI ADD ON

The Macaroni add-on transforms the spaghetti stand into a bag hook as well as a coat rack. This functional leather addition is the final accessory which adds character as well as purpose to the piece.

Distinctly Unique.

JESPER K
THOMSEN

The Lampetta lamp head design was conceptualised in 2006 by Jesper K Thomsen and was inspired by the headlight of the 1946 Vespa scooter. The design has been developed over the years, always holding true to its original inspiration. It exists now in a range of sizes and a variety of finishes - and in true Thomsen style, the quality of the craftsmanship remains as important as the design itself.
